Vercoe Says Military Land Should Be Sold

Much of the Military reservation land in the 12th Congressional District should be sold by the government for housing and other uses, in the opinion of Congressional condidate Mel Vercoe of Monterey.

Addressing a group of Seaside businessmen, the Democratic candidate said, "With the war in Vietnam scheduled to end just before the November election and with not enough money left in the Treasury to start another one, it is senseless to keep this land tied up for years when we have a shortage of housing and a shortage of land to put it on."

Vercoe also says that school vandalism could be stopped easily and quickly with a great saving in school taxes. "Under the Welfare Reform Act," according to Vercoe, "able-bodied welfare recipients could guard schools at night and on weekends. They could work in pairs and be deputized if desirable. The only cost would be for gasoline allowance and for state-provided compensation insurance."

Addressing a group of Monterey Peninsula College students, Vercoe announced that he is increasing his already-announced fifty dollar reward for Congressman Burt Talcott of Salinas. Since his reward produced no results, Vercoe told the students he was increasing the amount to 75 dollars.

"I intend to keep increasing the reward," the candidate announced, "until someone succeeds in getting Mr. Talcott to agree to publicly debate his voting record and other crucial issues with me, and when they do succeed, I'll give them a twenty dollar bonus if they'll tell me how they did it."

Hear Board Candidates

The Seaside Human Relations Commission will sponsor a Candidates Night for Trustee of the Governing Board of the Monterey Peninsula Unified School District. It will be held at King Junior High School, Seaside, Wednesday, March 8, at 7:30 p.m.

It is for a Special Election to fill the unexpired term of George Giveden, resigned. The term has one year to run.

Candidates for the one seat are: Theodore A. Cunningham, Army Master Sergeant and Licensed Vocational Nurse of Seaside; Samir F. Mansour, Director of educational media at Naval Postgraduate School of Monterey; Te Tseng Liu, Professor of Chinese language and culture at Defense Language Institute; Howard (Howee) Sims, Security chief at Del Monte Hyatt House of Seaside; George P. Zimmerman, official of a television station of Monterey.

Each candidate will have five minutes to introduce himself and state his platform. This will be followed by a question period with written questions from the floor directed to the various candidates.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

Begin Night Meetings

With the advent of the 18 year old vote and an increase in members who work full-time, the League of Women Voters of the Monterey Peninsula is reinstating monthly night discussions. The first of these will be held tonight (Thursday). The meeting will be at 7:30 at the Casa Estrada, behind Monterey Savings and Loan on Tyler Street, Monterey.

Dinner and a social time is being scheduled prior to the meeting at Zepeda's Restaurant. Reservations for dinner may be made by calling Mrs. Richard Tammen, 375-8535.

League unit meetings serve as a device to allow every member an opportunity to participate in League studies and activities. These discussion meetings are really "where it's all at."

League philosophy is that by promoting informed and active participation in the League, they are training their members for this type of participation in community life.

The subject for this unit's discussion and consensus will be California State policies on education with emphasis on financing, financial accountability and it's effects on quality at the local level.

The League expects this newly formed evening unit will serve its working membership and also attract the new young voter, busy during the day with school or work and an increasing number of men interested in becoming more informed on the critical government issues the League studies.

Drop in Unemployment For Vietnam Veterans

The February drop in unemployment for Vietnam Era veterans to 7.4 percent, the lowest figure in more than a year, was hailed recently as a "real breakthrough" by Donald E. Johnson, Administrator of Veterans Affairs.

"To me it is a sign that the National Jobs for Veterans Campaign is really catching on fire," Johnson declared.

"It is also a tribute to private and public employers - the people who make the jobs possible - who are responding in increasing numbers to President Nixon's appeal for a vital effort 'to provide the returning veteran what he has earned -- a smooth transition to civilian life and meaningful work."

The latest Department of Labor seasonally adjusted statistics show a drop in unemployment for veterans 20 to 29 years old from 8.5 percent in January to the 7.4 percent mark in February.

In addition to the overall decline in the age 20 to 29 veteran bracket, Johnson cited as particularly noteworthy the major drop in unemployment for veterans age 20 to 24 from 12.3 percent to 9.7 percent and the narrowing of the gap in unemployment figures between veterans and non-veterans in the same 20 to 29 age range.

He noted that unemployment among non-veterans age 20 to 29 was 7.0 percent in February, essentially the same as January and most of 1971 and that although non-veterans age 20 to 24 have generally had a much lower unemployment rate than veterans, the big drop for younger veterans in February erased most of the difference.

Johnson said the President's Jobs for Veterans Campaign, spearheaded by his National Committee chaired by James Oates, by the Department of Labor and by the National Alliance of Businessmen, has increasingly forcused the attention of America's employers on the job needs of returning Vietnam Era veterans. Hundreds of state and city committees have been formed and newspapers and radio and television outlets the nation over have supported the campaign as have major veterans organizations, he added.

"I think we are meeting the challenge," the VA Chief declared. "The goal now must be to sustain and improve upon the big gains registered last month by repeatedly driving home the fact that our Vietnam Era veterans offer maturity, discipline and excellent potential as prospective employees."

Johnson said the VA itself now employs some 13,000 Vietnam Era veterans, and has operated or co-sponsored more than 100 job fairs in recent years.

He noted that VA's GI Bill On-The-Job Training Program has grown from 18,629 veteran trainees in fiscal year 1968 to an estimated total of 156,000 veterans job training during the current fiscall year. He anticipates further expansion of the program in view of the President's request to Congress for a 48-percent boost in VA training allowances paid to veterans and a recent VA drive that has opened up thousands of business establishments.

Administrator Johnson also pointed out that VA's total education and training program under the G.I. Bill permits veterans to develop skills that will enhance greatly their future employment possibilities.

VA expects total G.I. Bill enrollment during the current fiscal year to number 2,000,000 veterans, up nearly 500,000 over last year. Last year's enrollment, in turn, was up 36 percent over 1970, 70 percent over 1969 and 240 percent over 1966.

Spending Increased

Visitor spending on the Monterey Peninsula exceeded $100,000,000 in 1971. The Monterey Peninsula Visitors and Convention Bureau's tabulations indicate that tourists and conventioneers expended about $106,190,000 here last year. According to Executive Vice President Sherrell Watson this is an increase of over $11,000,000 over the calendar year of 1970.

The Visitors and Convention Bureau records show there were 1,387 conventions, conferences or tour groups here in 1971. This was an increase of 455 above the previous year. There were about 98,350 delegates with expenditures estimated at over $14,750,000.

The total number of visitors including those not staying overnight is estimated at 6,530,000.

George Forbes, Chairman of the Visitors and Convention Bureau's Board of Governors, points out that this visitor spending is a major economic factor on the Peninsula providing much employment and important tax revenues for the cities and County of Monterey.

Women's Conference Is Planned

On Monday, March 20, the YMCA will hold a conference in colloboration with the Regional U.S. Women's Bureau. The conference, whose topic is "Guidance and Employment of Girls and Women," will be held from 10 am. until 4 p.m. at Merrill Hall, Asilomar in Pacific Grove.

Leading the discussions will be Mrs. Madeline Mixer, Regional Director of the U.S. Women's Bureau and Mr. James E. Pullen, Manager of Human Resources Development in Monterey. Also participating will be leader and representatives from a number of organizations. Included in these will be Jane Van Hook and Pearl Carey.

The program for the day is as follows:

10 a.m. until noon--Exploration of concerns and needs of girls and women with leaders from Chambers of Commerce, employment services, education, unions, civic and government services, service club, social agencies and various racial and women's groups.

Noon until 1 p.m.--Lunch.

1 p.m. to 2 p.m.--Trends in Business and Industry as seen by the Women's Bureau. Mrs. Mixer will discuss new legal aspects of employment of girls and women and their implications for employers, apprenticeship programs and vocational guidance and training in schools and colleges, employment services and on-the-job training. The projected consultation on women's employment with employers and union representatives will be explained.

2 until 4 p.m.--Planning session for possible next steps in this program.

Sewage Plant Is Inspected

Supervisor Loren Smith, along with Walter Wong, Montery county sanitarian and Ed Demars, County Planning Director, visited the city of Bakersfield recently.

The purpose of this trip was to inspect a demonstration sewage plant. The plant was manufactured in Seattle, Wahington, by Robert Lindman, who is the vice president of Lind-Pro Process Company.

Supervisor Smith's purpose for inspecting the plant was to determine the possible suitability of it for use in some of Monterey County's small outlying sub-divisions which do not have sewage facilities available to them. The use of these plants would also make it possible to avoid the use of more septic tanks.

The plant at Bakersfield was designed to handle 65,000 gallons of sewage per day. This would take care of many small sub-division requirements and the cost range is well within the economic feasibility for many proposed developments, according to the Supervisor.

Student Talent Show Announced

The second annual Monterey High Community Talent Show will be held tomorrow evening (Friday) at 7:30 p.m.

The community is invited to attend the event, which will be held in the girl's gymnasium at Monterey High.

Marty Omoto, talent show chairman, said soul, rock, jazz and singing groups from high schools and junior high schools in the area will be featured.

He said proceeds will be used in four ways: to pay off a $90 deficit from last semester's Asian Week activities; to raise money to help send mentally retarded children to summer camp; to accumulate money for noontime activities at the high school and to help pay hospital debts for a Seaside family whose son -- a Seaside High student -- died last month.

Talent show tickets can be purchased at $1 each either at the student bank at Monterey High or at the door the night of the show.

The event is being sponsored by the school's Noontime Activities Committee.

Working with Omoto are students Jeannue Colston, finance director; Lorraine Jordan, programming and scheduling director; Leland Dandridge, security and equipment chairman and Lonnie Smart, Rose Hendrix and Lydia Bass, co-chairmen for programming and scheduling.

A.E. Barragan

If the boss knew I was having this much fun walking around in his shoes, I am certain he would charge me. What a week I have had! Thursday I attended the cocktail party given by Graham Buick-Opel for the businessmen and their guests to celebrate their moving into the Gateway Project Area of Seaside. That is definately a gain for Seaside and a serious loss for Monterey. The Service Manager, Ron Walters, conducted a personal tour of the entire Graham Buick-Opel Quality Center for Supervisor Loren E. Smith and myself. It had been so long since I had seen the intricate machinery it takes just to diagnose an engine, I was very surprised to learn that you just can not drive into an auto repair shop and get a "quickie" and expect it to be correct. And that diagnosis can not be done by anyone less than an expert.

The Center's namesake, Doug Graham is just about the nicest gentleman I have had the pleasure of meeting in a long time. He is the type of man who knows what he wants and knows how to get it. That goes for his selection of staff members. Other than his service manager, he chose Loren Bell as his Office Manager, Jim Ellis as General Sales Manager and Darrel Harbin as Parts Manager. Each man has from 15 to 20 years of experience under his belt. We welcome such fine men and this great business to Seaside. Mr. Ellis told me that he would even

Meeting At King Junior High

The ESEA District Advisory Committee will hold a meeting and pot luck supper tonight (Thursday) in the Multi-Purpose Room at Martin Luther King Junior High School.

The supper will begin at 6:30. This will be followed at 7:30 by a speech by Ron Temple, Consultant in the Bureau of Compensatory Education Community Service and Migrant Education in Sacramento. He will talk about the ESEA Programs in the various schools.

The purpose of the meeting is to inform parents of the importance of parent advisory groups in local schools and how it can help bring special educational services in attendance areas, which have high concentrations of children from low income families and to provide children with coordinated school, family and community resources which deal with the whole child and not only his academic needs.

The public is invited to attend the meeting. Anyone attending the dinner is asked to bring a dish of some kind.

U.S. ARMY RECRUITER

HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS! With high school graduation not too far in the future, and if you're not going to college, you're bound to be a bit uncertain about your best course of action. To end the uncertainty of your days, why not consider enlisting in TODAY'S ARMY once you've completed high school?

There are many good training programs available to you and you can select the kind of training you want. In choosing the training you want, you will know the location of the school, plus the length of the course. By enlisting you can fullfill your obligation to your country and can obtain the education and job training you need to build a solid, rewarding career.

So we invite you to stop by 431 Webster Street in Monterey and let us outline for you the many opportunities offered by TODAY'S ARMY to young men and women who are looking beyond the moment and are determined to make their lives just as satisfying and rewarding as possible. We will discuss the many advantages which are now available in TODAY'S ARMY to young persons; opportunities for education, advancement, travel and important, satisfying jobs. We will help you PLAN your career-prepare yourself for your choice of a career, either civilian or military.

This past week we had the pleasure of assisting a couple of young men from Seaside in choosing their training in TODAY'S ARMY. Andrew J. Johnson of 866 Kimball Street enlisted for duty as a Dental Assistant and after basic training will go to Fort Sam Houston, Texas, for schooling. Our other enlistee, Thomas F. Murray, of 1711 Yosemite will be trained in the Medical Care and Treatment Field.

A Marina resident completes our list of volunteers. Woo H. St. Clair, a former Army man, returned to TODAY'S ARMY as a Specialist Five and will be departing for Korea soon. This is the second time around for Specialist St. Clair. The first time was in December 1966 and he enlisted through this office then.

The best of luck to all.

sell his own automobile if it would make a customer happy. How far can one go to please?

Friday afternoon from 5 to 7 I attended another cocktail party. This was hosted by Del Monte Properties Co., to celebrate the opening of Monterey's newest and most elaborate store, Saks Fifth Avenue at the Del Monte Shopping Center. If I were able to properly describe the furnishings of each department and give them justice, I would be "a gem in the crown of literature and a glittering star in the sky." (Gibran). I drank to Lawrence Jamison's health so many times, I almost lost my own. Mr. Jamison is the general manager of the store.

Supervisor Loren Smith and I toured the entire main floor of Sak's and we were amazed at the exquisite merchandise. There were live models displaying their most elaborate lady's ready-to-wear. The people who visit and shop at Sak's Fifth Avenue have a treat in store for them. They will see nine different departments in one store designed to satisfy the most discriminating customer. I can truthfully say that Mr. Jamison is in charge of a store he can be proud of. We take this opportunity to welcome Saks Fifth Avenue to the Monterey Bay Peninsula Area.

With my busy schedule I still managed to see the previews of "U.S.A." at the Circle Theater in Carmel Friday night. Since I had two tickets I asked our program coordinator, Miss Ja Nise La Rue, to accompany me. "U.S.A." should be a great hit. The actors were superb and the story was great. "U.S.A." is a play that begins at the start of the 20th Century and goes to the Depression. That is where it stops. It highlighted the important events of the start of this century including the life of Isadore Duncan, which was done by Rosamond Goodrich. Incidently, to me that was the highlight of the play. Rosamond put a lot of feeling into the portrayal of Miss Duncan.

"U.S.A." is a play worth seeing. And the Circle Theater is the place to see it. The stage is set like a star, with ramps leading to the center. The director, Anthony Vintcent and the writers, John Dos Passos and Paul Shyre, have given the Circle Theater a play to be proud of.

Most surprising of all was that after the play had ended and the patrons walked out, there were hot dogs and popcorn along with cold beer for everyone. It was very colorful and the people who were doing the serving were colorfully dressed in their straw hats and red and white jackets. It was quite an evening for everyone.

Saturday at noon I represented the POST News-Sentinel at a luncheon at the Del Monte Lodge. I could write a column on the Del Monte Lodge, but that will come later. The luncheon was in the library. There were pre-luncheon cocktails for everyone. Only 28 people were invited and I was honored to be one of them. I had the added honor of sharing a table for five with such notables as James Ludwig, Vice-President of Sak's Fifth Avenue Stores; James Glazer of Del Monte Properties; Allan Johnson, Chairman of the Board for Sak's Fifth Avenue and John Bolles, head of Architecture. No one could have had a better seat. And the luncheon was excellent. Afterwards, the Mayor of Monterey, Al Madden, was presented a gift by James Ludwig. And to retaliate, the Mayor presented Mr. Ludwig and Mr. Johnson a gift. When Mr. Ludwig presented the Mayor of Monterey the gift he informed the Mayor that it was inscribed to prevent it from being returned to the store.

As you can see, it was a very wonderful weekend for me and to think I get paid for that. (Unless my boss, Mr. Barragan, reconsiders). Speaking of my boss, (Hello Aunt Lil), he is improving daily. Most of his nights are better now and he is getting stronger and stronger. If he continues this, my weekends like the last one will end because he will again be taking it all in. However, I would gladly give up my weekends of activities to have him cracking the whip again. He asked me to thank all of the people who prayed for him, lit candles and sent all those wonderful cards and letters with flowers and so on. He will thank you personally when he is able.

I can imagine Kahlil Gibran spoke for Andy when he said, "I am between my confounded health and the will of the people, like an out-of-tune musical instrument in the hands of a giant who plays on it strange melodies devoid of harmony." Thank you all, you wonderful people.

As I See It

By Mel Vercoe

George Washington was amazed, which was only natural. After an absence of 173 years he had decided to come back in disguise to see how things were going with his country, and his faithful guide, Albert, was trying to explain things in a way Mr. Washington would understand.

"Please don't breathe too deeply, George. These exhaust fumes are supposed to be bad for the lungs."

"Exhaust fumes? Heavens to Besty. Where would they come from, and what are they?"

"Never mind, George. I'll explain later. By the way, I am sorry to have to tell you that you got here too late for your birthday party. We celebrated it yesterday instead of today so more people could enjoy a long weekend."

"That's OK. Hey, Albert, how come that flag up there has so many stars on it?"

"Oh, well, it's like this. We made some pretty good deals after you left. We made a cash purchase or two, and then the Indians were pretty generous after we had killed most of them off. Anyway, we wound up with so much land we had to divide it up into fifty states. There may be some more pretty quick. There will probably be an attempt to make Saigon the fifty-first state. That's in Asia, George, and if we don't make some of it a state we may have to give in to popular demand and get out of there."

"Good heavens, what are we doing in Asia? I thought I told the country before I left to stay out of foreign countries."

"Yes, I know, George, but one thing kind of led to another, so we had to go over there to save it for democracy."

"Oh, by Jove, that's more like it. Glad to hear it. We went over there to help the people achieve freedom from dictatorship just like Lafayette, bless his soul, came over here and helped us get out from under the British and the Hessians. Is that what happened?"

"Well, not exactly, George. Some guys in Saigon are the British, we are the Hessians who are helping them, and the Chinese and Russians are the Lafayettes, if you can figure that out."

"Oh, yes, the Russians. I suppose Catherine the Great and her boy Paul are both gone by now."

"Paul got bumped off two years after you died, George but I think we'd better talk about something else. I sure wouldn't want anybody to find out you had been on good terms with the ancestors of a bunch of commies."

"Commies? What on earth is a commie?"

"I'm not real sure, George, but I sure don't know what American industry would have done to keep itself going if they hadn't been around. Come on, George. I want to show you the inside of a 747 out at the airport."

Questions and Answers

Q--I have a loan on my G.I. insurance policy. May I repay it through deductions

Q--I have a certificate of eligibility to attend graduate school. What is considered full time for VA benefits?

A--Am

A--The VA generally will accept whatever the school considers full time graduate work. Suggest you check with the registrar of the school you plan to attend.

Q--Am I eligible for benefits under the current G.I. Bill if I served in the regular Army from 1930 to 1935?

A--No. The current G.I. Bill provides G.I. loans, education and other benefits for eligible veterans who served after January 31, 1955.

Q--What is the maximum VA loan available for a mobile home?

A--For the purchase of a mobile home only, it is $10,000 payable over 12 years and 32 days.

Q-- I withdrew from school under the G.I. Bill at the end of the semester two years ago, and plan to return to the same school to pursue the same program. How do I start my benefits again?

A--You should notify the school to submit a re-enrollment certification to VA. This would start your benefits again, provided you have not exhausted your entitlement and the school and program are currently approved.

Q--My deceased father was a VA pensioner. Because of a childhood accident, my sister is unable to work, and will never be able to do so. Is she eligible for a pension?

A--VA considers a helpless khild as one who became permanently incapable of self-support before age 18. If this is the case with your sister, you should submit a claim, with supporting medical evidence, to VA.

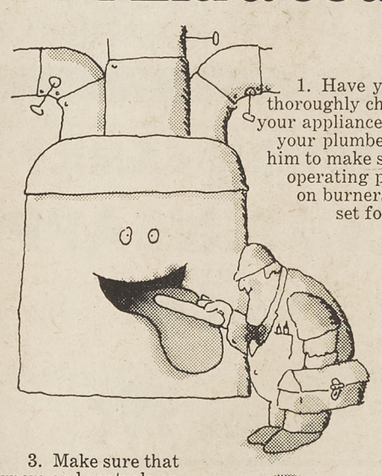
Household safety: four things you should do. And a couple you shouldn't.



1. Have your gas appliances thoroughly checked once a year by your appliance or furnace man or your plumber. While he's there ask him to make sure safety pilots are operating properly, air openings on burners are clean and set for a blue flame.

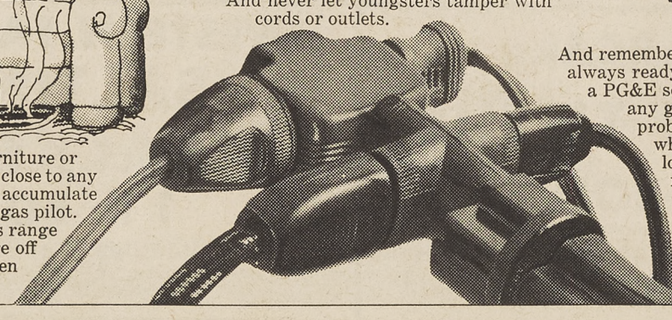
2. Get rid of any rusted or loose-fitting vent and flue pipes. Have them checked annually. If you ever should smell a gas leak call PG&E immediately.

3. Make sure that burners and controls on your gas furnace, wall or floor heater are clean at all times. And be sure to clean or replace dirty furnace filters periodically.

4. When you disconnect appliances, pull plug first from the outlet. Also make sure electric tools are properly grounded, and frayed or broken electric cords are replaced.

Don't place furniture or drapes over or close to any heater. Or let gas accumulate before lighting a gas pilot. Be sure that gas range burners are off completely when not in use.

Never connect too many appliances to one outlet or circuit. And never let youngsters tamper with cords or outlets.



And remember, too, that we're always ready to help. If you call for a PG&E service man to check-out any gas leak or gas service problem, ask him to show you where your gas pilots are located and how to go about relighting them. If repairs or parts are needed, call an appliance or furnace service man or your plumber.

Grooving Around the Peninsula

with BETTY MANN

Hi there, fellow Peninsulans!

This week's column will focus on an article that appeared in "The Layman's Monthly Magazine." This article was written by Rev. Theadore R. McKenny, former pastor of Hayes Chapel, Seaside, who is now working in the East Bay area. While pastoring here on the Peninsula, his outspoken views on community togetherness and politics were quire outstanding. Speaking from a parishoner's point of view, the black church needs more Rev. Theodore McKennys, who are interested in each parishoner on a human level, instead of how much each one is titheing. The following is Rev. McKenny's article:

The Black Church is far from being what it ought to be and what God would have it to be. Like most institutions in society, the Black Church has its weaknesses as well as its strength. The strength of the Black Church has been in providing leadership, free expression, the cultivation of the black "genius," creativity, race solidarity, recreation in the black community, education (only in the South) and a few other good, worthwhile contributions. Above all, the Black Church has been the one and only institution that has contributed the most to the survival of black people. The Black Church has been the cohesive force in the black community, the corralling and rallying force of black strength and power. It has been forced to do business in troublesome waters.

but a dark shaeow has dimmed the light of the Black Church for centuries and its presence is still with it at this present hour. This dark shadow has kept the Black Church running from its true mission in society like racism has kept the White Church from its real mission. This dark shadow lingering over the Black Church has caused it to become more concerned about preparing black folks to die than live; more concerned about the imaginary golden slippers and flowing white robes in the next world than about their bare feet and poorly clothed bodies in this world. The Black Church said, "Take the whole world but give me Jesus," but when it discovered that Jesus didn't put food in one's stomach, clothes on one's body and shelter over one's head--but that only economics and politics are the sources through which these material necessities of life come; the white man had walked off with all this world's good while black preachers set up Real Estate Boards in heaven and sold land to black folks on Sunday morning over "there," wherever "there" is.

Now this dark shadow was cast over the Black Church during the days of slavery. Again we go into the annals of history to find the root cause. Nothing happens in a vacuum but in concrete situations. During slavery white Christians considered Christian indoctrination an effective weapon of keeping slaves docile and contented. Religious instruction of the slaves by the white "Christian" slave master served as a moral incentive in establishing better relations between the master and slave. Religion was instilled into the slaves in such a way that it made them more honest, but they were still slaves. Religion made the slaves more obedient, but they were still bondsmen. Religion made the slaves more faithful to their master, nevertheless, they remained slaves. Of course this was not true of all salves. Some slaves had enough sense and insight to see through the white "Christian's" smoke screen with God's picture painted on it. Therefore many slaves made no attempt to reconcile their lot and what they knew to be the truth about the Christian religion. There is always that remnant around who refuse to bow down.

During slavery many white church leaders believed that the gospel, instead of becoming a means of creating trouble and strife between master and slave, was really the best instrument to preserve peace and good conduct among the slaves. The slaves learned from the white "Christians" that insolence was as much an offense against God as against the slavemaster. Slaves were taught obedience and respect to and for their superiors (all white folks) and that servants are to obey their masters. Thus the historical record explicitly substantiates the fact that religion (a distorted version of Christianity) played a major role in the perpetuation of the peculiar institution (slavery). This is the dark shadow, namely, a "slave theology" that has sent the Black Church on an idealistic trip from which it has yet to return and face up to the human realities facing black people in the nation.

The Black Church cannot afford to "jump" the present life and continue to "furnish" the black masses with all the requisite conveniences for the next. Black ministers cannot afford to function as "trusted Uncle Toms" for the Establishment for their own selfish ends while the people, their people and my people are oppressed, exploited and mistreated. The White Church's record on human rights is a scandal and the whole world knows it. Will the Black Church also make shipwrecks of its faith by allowing the gospel of Jesus Christ to continue to be diluted, blurred and foggy by injecting moral and sentimental notions into it? Will the Black Church find a new meaning for its existence? Will it turn or divert its strengths in the black community toward a new consciousness that will guide it in assuming a role in the black struggle for liberation and freedom, or will it continue repeating the words of the ancient Biblical character, Job to the society that crushes and exploits the black masses, "Though it slays us yet will we trust in it?" Buell G. Gallagher said, "When Christianity capitulates to white imperialism, it may gain an empire but it will lose humanity." The White Church has made this tragic mistake. It has lost its own soul through rationalizations of the Christian faith in order to accommodate its racist ideologies and a racist culture. Must the Black Church make the same mistake?

All black preachers have been constantly reminded of their blackness in the past several years by the Black Revolution and the course it has taken. The "negro" preachers who have not gotten black yet and are not willing to accept the fact of their blackness, we will have to check them off as lost and go ahead with the real business of the church's mission in society. The Black Church must get "on the case" or there will be a flush.

Our real problem is not so much the high cost of living as it is the cost of living high.

The most difficult part of getting to the top of the ladder is getting through the crowd at the bottom.

Scots Guards To Appear at MPC

Queen Elizabeth's household trops, the Scots Guards Regimental Band, will perform in concert at Monterey Peninsula College tomorrow evening (Friday), at 8:30 p.m. in the MPC Gymnasium.

The 329-year-old Regimental Band, with pipers, drummers and dances, will perform popular, contemporary and traditional tunes while marching in intricate patterns.

The Regiment was established during the reign of Charles I and has seen action on the battlefield as well as on the parade ground. The Regiment has the responsibility of guarding the Queen both at Buckingham Palace and Edinburgh Castle.

The Scots Guards are currently touring the United States and Canada, their first tour on this side of the Atlantic since 1955.

A departure from the traditional entertainment as provided by the Scots Guards will take place at the Monterey show. The band, pipers and dancers will be joined by a singing Guardsman, Cpl. Roy Smith. Never before have the Guardsmen, who present such an immovable, solid appearance while guarding Buckingham Palace, had singing as part of their program.

There are 80 members in the Scots Guards Band. They will appear in traditional scarlet tunics, bearskin bonnets and tartans which haven't changed since the Marquis of Argyle formed the group for Charles I 329 years ago.

Tickets for the performance may be obtained from MPC Community Services, Abinate Music Store in Monterey and Carmel Music in Carmel.

For more information about the performance, call 375-9821, extension 335.

The tour cost based on double occupancy is only $374 per person from Los Angeles gateway. This includes round trip airfare via Western Airlines Fiesta flight with meals, deluxe room and daily breakfast and dinner, cocktail party, buffet, award banquet, all transfers, golf fees for two days plus electric cart on a sharing basis.

Greene Travel Agency is handling tour reservations. For tour brochures and information call Greene Travel, (213) 737-0180 or West Adams Community Hospital, (213) 737-1133, Don Bohana, Administrator.

Learn To Reach Out

The chances of failure in marriage have nearly doubled in the past 30 years according to Edward W. Graves, pastor of the Monterey Peninsula Seventh-day Adventist church.

Reporting to a planning session for the current "Reach Out for Life" series of community open-house discus-church, 375 Lighthouse Avenue, Pacific Grove, Pastor Graves cited figures published in the 1970 Statistical Abstract for the United States. "A number equal to 31 percent of all marriages in 1969 ended in divorce that year," the pastor said. "Compared with only 17 percent for the year 1940, it is easy to see the alarming increase in divorce."

"During 1967," the clergyman noted, "the average duration of marriage in the United States was 7.1 years. When we consider the many marriages that last until 'death do us part', there must be a vast majority which do not last more than a year or two."

Pastor Graves has been discussing personal problems and their solutions nightly since March 4. The series is slated to continue through April 1.

Topics still to be discussed in the series include: "The Greatest Question ever Asked and the Greatest Answer ever Given," "When Astrology Failed but Dreams Came True," and "A Weekend with a Weak Ending."

The open-house discussions are open to all regardless of race or creed, Graves said.

Says Blues Part of Life

"Blues are part of the black way of life," says famed blues singer and guitarist B.B. King in an article in the current issue of Words & Music magazine.

In trying to explain how meaningful the blues are to himslef and to other blacks brought up in a plantation atmosphere or in any atmosphere of poverty and want in a land of plenty, B.B. puts it this way:

"The blues are a geeling. If a guy sings the blues it's about hard times, women, not having enough to eat, or maybe because he needs more money or just wants to be happy. White or black people can have the blues, but it's absolutely certain that mostly black people have them in one form or another.

"For me, I express that feeling in my songs," continues B.B. in the Words & Music article. "It's a feeling of release. You get so heavy inside that you feel like crying. Sometimes I do cry while singing. My singing helps me feel better afterward. It also tells other people how I feel.

"So if I cry while I sing it helps me laugh at things when I'm not singing. It doesn't help by being mean and bitter. You have to go on living and you should try and be as pleasant as you can.

"Singing the blues has always helped to keep me going. You could say that singing the blues keeps me one step ahead of the blues. It's my way of expressing what's in my heart and even today it makes me feel less alone.

"Singing the blues is the B.B. King form of psychotherapy," he concludes in the Words & Music article. "It makes me feel better and at the same time it brings happiness to other people."

BENEFIT - Adelphian Concert Choir of University of Puget Sound, Tacoma, Washington, will appear in concert benefitting Bobby Lundholm Fund at 8 p.m., March 24 at St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church. Proceeds will aid family of Bobby Ludholm, who died recently after spending eight weeks in a coma, with mounting hospital costs. The 41 young singers and their director, Dr. Bruce Rodgers, will be housed during their stay by members of Fil-American Society. Tickets are available at Abinate's, Drummonds Poor Scholar Book Store, Cecil's Old Fashion Ice Cream Parlor and St. Francis Rectory. Donations to fund may be sent to PO Box 274 by those who wish to help, but cannot attend concert.

Art Archives Office Has Opened

The Archives of American Art, a bureau of the Smithsonian Institution, has opened a regional office in San Francisco, located in the tower of the M. H. de Young Memorial Museum in Golden Gate Park.

The announcement was made by William E. Woolfenden, national director of the Archieves, who came to San Francisco to organize a West Coast advisory committee.

"Plans call for the appointment of a regional director in July," Woolfenden said. "With the cooperation of local institutions the director will begin a concentrated effort to collect papers relating to American art in the western region of the United States."

During the first half of 1972 the office will be open by appointment on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. as a service to qualified scholars, graduate students and writers.
